The Mid-Atlantic Chapter will be flying into Brandywine Airport (KOQN), West Chester, Pennsylvania this month. Please try to arrive between 11 AM and Noon. Find a place to park on the ramp at The American Helicopter Museum and Education Center Building or across the runway. They still have snow piled up all over the place. We'll meet in the museum and go in for the tour and presentations. Admission is $10 and $8 for senior's (65+). They have over 40 aircraft and it's the largest helicopter museum in the country. There will be a Special Black History Month show on Saturday (see attached). Featured will be actress Daisy Century who will portray Bessie Colman, the first licensed African American female pilot. Also, Tuskegee Airman, John Grant will give a presentation.

They do not have a restaurant on the field, so I've made arrangements with the Museum to have pizza / sandwiches ordered and delivered to us at the museum.

Please check out their website www.helicoptermuseum.org for more information about the museum.

Don't forget to call the GO/NO GO Status Line 856-765-7223 after 7 AM and check NOTAMS on the morning of all scheduled activities for details and any changes.

See you there!
